MADERO FLEES THE CAPITAL AND HURRIES TO VERA CRUZ AS NEAREST SEAPORT TOWN

PRESIDENT OF MEXICO TAKES TO HEELS BECAUSE ARMY REFUSES TO FIGHT

THIS IS TAKEN AS END OF THE MADERO ADMINISTRATION AND FELIX DIAZ WILL CALL HIM-SELF PRESIDENT.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10.—President Madero, with his family and a few faithful retainers, fled in a special train for Vera Cruz this morning.

The flight was forced by the refusal of General Blanquet and his army of 3,000 federals to attack the rebel army under Felix Diaz, nephew of the former dictator of the republic.

The flight is taken to mean the end of the Madero administration. It is expected that Felix Diaz will proclaim himself president of the republic this afternoon.

There is an unconfirmed report that the entire Madero cabinet has resigned.

Rodolfo Reyes, son of General Bernardo Reyes, who was killed in the fighting yesterday, committed suicide today. The son was grief stricken over the death of his father.

In all there are 250 dead as the result of the continuous fighting which has been going on since Saturday night.

Americans Lose $400,000,000—

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—It is estimated that at least $400,000,000 has been lost by Americans in Mexico since the Madero government obtained a foothold, according to unofficial advices received at the state department.

The claims against the government now aggregate $500,000,000, this representing claims made by the English, German, French, Canadian and Chinese governments. The Chinese government has presented claims for the slaughter of 367 of her citizens.

Intervention Not Needed—

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Secretary of State Knox said this afternoon:
"No Americans have been reported figured in Mexico City." He gave it as his opinion that intervention has been found unwarranted.

PROTECTION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President
Taft called a special cabinet meeting today to consider the Mexican situation with reference to immediate intervention by the United States.

who got out of a sick bed to attend the meeting, said: "The administration will endeavor to steer a course between non-intervention and adequate protection to the American citizens of Mexico."

It is expected that warships will be ordered immediately to Mexican waters.

Wm. M. Carswell of Chicago, Ill., is a guest at the Despland hotel, having arrived in the city Saturday after-agreement with a California petroleum company. The penalty for this is a fine of from $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment from one month to a

EXPLORER SCOTT HAS PERISHED

ALL MEMBERS OF EXPEDITION LOSE LIVES IN FAR SOUTH

RELIEF SHIP MAKES DISCOVERY AND REPORTS FINDING BY WIRELESS TO NEW ZEALAND
TODAY.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A dispatch from Christ Church, New Zealand, received here this afternoon, states that Captain Robert Scott, the British Antarctic explorer, and all members of his expedition have perished in the Antarctic region.

The exploration ship Terra Nova, which had been sent to the relief of the Scott expedition, came into the zone of wireless communication today and reported the finding.

Later advices received this afternoon state that Capt. Scott and his party had succeeded in reaching the south pole January 18, 1912, but the entire party was overcome by a blizzard on the return trip. In the blinding storm they lost their way and were frozen to death. There were 27 in the party and nearly all of them were members of the British army or navy, except the geologists.

Sunday was the greatest day for aviation in the history of Daytona and vicinity and thousands of persons were on the beach to witness the exhibition flights given by George Gray and Ruth Law. The rivalry between the two manipulators of the aeroplanes was shown by the fact that the immense crowd was divided, Miss Law demonstrating mostly to the crowd in front of the Clarendon and Mr. Gray displaying to the crowd south of the pier. Mr. Gray is one of the most daring aviators in the business and some of his stunts Sunday were thrillers.

TURKS ARE NOW SEEKING INTERVENTION

MAKE OVERTURES TO BRITISH FOREIGN MINISTER FOR HELP

MONTENEGRINS TAKE HEIGHTS
COMMANDING CITY OF SCUTARI AND CAN NOW SHELL THE TOWN.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—It is reported today that Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish ambassador at London, has secretly made representations to British Foreign Minister Grey, asking intervention on behalf of Turkey, but he was informed that the porte will have to make a formal request before the matter can even be considered.

There are persistent reports that secret peace negotiations are now being carried on between Turkey and Bulgaria.

Montenegrins Gain Heights—
CETTINJE, Feb. 10.—After a fierce battle the Montenegrins have carried the heights commanding the city of Scutari and are now able to sweep the city with shell.

The victors lost 2,000 in killed and wounded and the Turks left more than 4,000 on the field.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bullard and daughters, the Misses Emma and Marguerite Bullard, of Mechanics-burg, Ill., arrived the latter part of last week and are located for the reminder of the season in Mrs. J. M.
Jolley's house, 26 South Palmetto avenue. They are accompanied by Capt. Emanuel Cross and wife, of Mechanicsburg, and Mrs. Jas. Coffman and maid of Springfield, Mass.
Mr. Bullard and family were last winter located in the Snead house at the corner of Palmetto and Live Oak avenues, in company with Mr. Bullard's brother, R. S. Bullard and wife, who are again here for the season.

Geo. J. Vandevord was in the city Saturday afternoon on his way to Daytona Beach, where he visited his mother and sister until today, when he returned to Hawks Park, where he has been for the past two or three weeks looking after his bees at that place. The warm weather of this winter has caused the bees to consume more stores than usual and as a consequence many colonies have run short of food and starved, some apiarists losing heavily in this way.
Mrs. Vandevord and children are still at Mt. Dora.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hughes and daughter Mary of Parkersburg, West Virginia, are spending some time in the city. This is their first visit to Daytona and they are much impressed with the prettiest winter resort in the world.

A. W. Elliott, president and general manager of the Southern Rescue Mission of Jacksonville, came down from that city Sunday and will be in the city for a few days for the purpose of securing financial assistance to continue the good work he has established at the state metropolises.

DICKENS AS HE WAS IN 1839

Interesting Description of Great Writer Published in the Knickerbocker of That Year.

In person he is a little above the standard height, though not tall. His figure is slight, without being meagre, and is well proportioned. The face, that first object of physical interest, is peculiar, though not remarkable. An ample forehead is displayed under a quantity of light hair, worn in a mass on one side rather jauntily, and this is the only semblance of dandyism in his appearance. His brow is marked, and his eye, though not large, is bright and expressive. The most regular feature is the nose, which may be called handsome; an epithet not applicable to his lips, which are too large. Taken altogether, the countenance, which is pale without sickliness, is in repose extremely agreeable and indicative of great refinement and intelligence.

Mr. Dickens' manners and conversation, except perhaps in the perfect abandon among his familiars, have no exhibition of particular wit, much less of humor. He is mild in the tones of his voice, and quiescent, evincing habitual attention to etiquette and the conventionalisms of polished circles. His society is much sought after, and, possibly to avoid the invitations pressed upon him, he does not reside in London, but with a lovely wife and two charming children occupies a retreat in the vicinity. He is about 26 years of age, but does not look more than 23 or 24. Mr. Dickens is entirely self-made, and rose from an humble station by virtue of his moral worth, his genius and his industry. From the Knickerbocker, August, 1839.

Took Mother Literally.

Marian pointed to the glass or cup when she wished a drink, uttering inarticulate sounds intended to convey her desire. She was old enough to talk some, but she had never been taught to ask for a drink. Mother said to her: "When you want a drink, Marian, you say, 'Mamma, or papa, or Hazel, or Mildred, drink.'" The next time Marian wished a drink she pointed to the cup and said: "Mamma, papa, Hazel, Mildred, drink-ink-ink-ink-ink!"

Wasted Example.

An old lady, leaving church after a service which had been attended by a crowded congregation, was heard to say: "If everybody else would only do as I do, and stay quietly in their seats till every one else has gone out, there would not be such a crush at the doors!"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The finest resort hotel in the world is being built at Sunset Mountain Asheville, N. C.

Absolutely Fireproof
Will open July 1st

Wm. S. KENNEY, manager

MR. E. W. GROVE, of St. Louis, Mo., is building the finest resort hotel in the world, to be opened July 1st, 1913. It will be absolutely fireproof, and is being built of the great boulders of Sunset Mountain, at whose foot it sits. It is being built by hand in the old-fashioned way.
Full of rest and comfort and wholesomeness.

¶ The front lawn is the hundred-acre eighteen-hole golf links of the Asheville Country Club, and with it sixty acres of our own lawn.

¶ The purest water obtainable anywhere, piped seventeen miles, from the slopes of Mount Mitchell, over 6000 feet altitude. Biltmore milk and cream exclusively, supplied from 200 registered Jerseys on the estate of Mr. Geo. W. Vanderbilt. It is doubtful if this famous dairy is equaled in the world.

¶ Four hundred one-piece rugs are being made at Aubusson, France.
Seven hundred pieces of the furniture are being made by hand by the Roycrofters. The silver will be hand-hammered.

¶ The plumbing material will be the finest that has ever been placed in any hotel in the world. The soil pipe has been hydraulically tested and then galvanized. The hot water pipe, 18,000 lbs. in weight, will be solid brass. The steam pipes are Byers' genuine lap-welded wrought iron tested hydraulically to 1000 lbs. The bathtubs and fixtures all solid porcelain.
No pipes visible anywhere. No radiators to be seen—all placed in recesses under windows. No electric bulbs to be seen.

¶ The "Big Room," or what some call the lobby, is 80 feet by 120, and the rugs in this one room will be worth $5000.00. The two great fire places in it will burn twelve-foot logs.

¶ For the golfers we are building lockers and shower bath rooms with a forty-foot swimming pool that will not be excelled by the finest clubs in existence, and the players will be less than 100 yards distant when they are on the links.

¶ Mr. Wm. S. Kenney, of Bretton Woods, N. H., who has shown in his management of The Mount Washington hotel and Hotel Clarendon, that he is the peer of hotel keepers, will manage the Inn.

¶ We own eight hundred acres around the Inn (consumptives not taken).

¶ Especially available for northern guests in the Spring, Fall and Winter, going or returning from farther southern resorts, or for an all Winter resort.

¶ The Inn is located on the side of Sunset Mountain, about a mile from the top, and is not only cool enough in the Summer to make a blanket necessary at night, but is protected and mild enough in the Winter to make life enjoyable without encumbrance.

THINKING ABOUT DAYTONA

W. F. Brown, writing from Philadelphia to renew his subscription to the weekly Gazette-News, says:

"There are some things quite interesting in this city. The Pennsylvania railroad, which has made an offer for the Atlantic Coast Line, contemplates spending $50,000,000 at the Broad street station in Philadelphia, and has also given an order for $16,000,000 worth of new cars. The Baldwin Locomotive works are doing more business now than ever. There is one department store here which employs between 6,000 and 7,000 persons. Business in general will soon be in full swing all over the country."

"Thus far the winter has been very mild, not much snow or ice, hence it did not interfere much in the construction of concrete buildings of which there are some real big one going up here. While Mrs. Brown and I spent the past three winters in Florida it is doubtful whether we will be able to go south this winter as it is getting somewhat late for us. We prefer spending half of the year south as we have done in the past three years. I am simply delighted to learn of the many real substantial improvements in and about Daytona, and in a general way, I predict, as others do, the splendid future for Florida. We will endeavor to keep the undesirables from going south, and this might be a reason why I am not at Seabreeze this winter."

"I greatly miss my next door neighbor, Dr. Messinger from Elmira, N. Y., Henry G. Wells from Malden, Ill., Dr. Holland from Paducah, Ky., as well as many more. I therefore suggest that my good friend from Pennsylvania, D. A. Michael, whose winter home is located on beautiful Ridgewood avenue, Daytona, convey our well wishes to all our friends and neighbors. With best wishes to the Daytona Gazette-News,
"Sincerely yours,
"W. F. BROWN."

It's always a pity when a man doesn't get married. He can't help slipping into queer ways with nobody to tell him how silly he is. There is no one whom you so really love to dislike as a person you have injured.—"The Browns," by J. E. Buchrose.

A Singular Reception

By RYLAND BELL

One night after dining late I went home. I live in one of a row of ten houses, all alike, and many are the mistakes I have made in trying to get into the wrong domicile. I soon learned that if my latchkey did not work easily I had better beat a retreat. But on this occasion I must have found the door unlatched—either this or my key happened to fit the lock, for I had no trouble in getting in. If it hadn't been for the wine I had drunk doubtless I would have realized that something was wrong, for in my own house the hall light would have been turned low, while here it was out.

My foot tripped on something, and I stumbled, but caught myself. Placing my hat and overcoat in the hall closet, I was about to feel my way upstairs when I heard a voice in the adjoining room. It was apparently that of a nervous old woman trying to be resolute.

"Go away at once! The house is wired for burglars, and the police will be here directly!"

"What in the world?" I was beginning when the same voice continued: "I don't wish you to be arrested and go to jail. Do consider! Prison life is awful. Just go right out the way you came in, and you'll save a lot of trouble for yourself!"

It was evident to me by this time that I had made one of my blunders in getting into the wrong house, and, not relishing being taken for a burglar, I was about to apologize and go out when it occurred to me that an apology would neither be believed nor accepted and I had better make an exit without one. Indeed, I was not quite sure but that some man might be waiting with a gun till he could locate the intruder. So I concluded to go at once, but objected to leaving my hat and overcoat to establish my identity. While I was feeling my way to the closet all was silent, but no sooner had I started for the door than an entirely different voice came from upstairs. It was apparently that of a girl.

"If you must take something away with you go to the sideboard, and hanging to a rail behind it you'll find the key to the drawer, and the silver is inside. Take it all and welcome, only go away as soon as possible."

This was too much. I could not for bear reassuring this timid creature whose voice was melodious.

"Don't be frightened. I'm not a burglar at all. I've simply made a mistake and got into the wrong house. I'm going away at once."

"Police! Robbers! Murder!" Confound the girl! She'll bring the police down on me and get me into a fix.

"Shut up!" I cried. "I mean, be quiet. Nobody's going to hurt you. I tell you it's all a mistake. I live in this block, and my house is—"

"Don't shoot! Take everything—silver, jewelry, all!"

I hesitated between flight and going upstairs to calm this hysterical young woman and finally concluded on the latter course. It seemed that the voice came from the head of the stairs. I ran up two steps at a time, but was not quick enough. There was a light in this upper hall, but it was turned so low that I could only distinguish a table with a box on it, but couldn't see what the latter was like. If the girl was in the hall I couldn't see her. I heard a door open and saw something white cross the hall. Then the gas jet was turned up, and I saw a girl in her nightdress under it. What she saw was a young man in evening dress. She put her hand on her heart and staggered.

"Calm yourself," I said. "I've been afraid you would turn an innocent mistake into a tragedy. Do I look like a burglar?"

"If you're not, what are you doing here?"

"Oh, Gwen," cried the old woman's voice I had heard downstairs, "come back. He'll kill you!"

I was puzzled. These persons had been talking to me, and yet they didn't seem to have heard me. And how did the old woman get upstairs?

"Are you two deaf?" I asked, irritated.

Gradually the girl regained her equilibrium. Then she smiled. Her smile broke into a laugh.

"What in thunder does it all mean?" I shouted.

"Wait a minute and I'll tell you."

She ran into a bedroom and in another moment emerged in a kimono. She was very pretty in either costume. "Mamma and I live alone and are in constant terror of burglars, so we got two photographs, and mamma talked in one and I in the other the words you have doubtless heard. Every night we connect them with a fine wire in the vestibule so that if a burglar broke it with his foot it would set the photographs talking."

"Well, I'll be flogged!" I exclaimed. "I'd rather be arrested and judged for a burglar than be made a fool of."

A silvery laugh from the girl rang out, and I added:

"You need a man in this house, and if you want me all you've got to do is to say so."

"Thank you; we get on very well with two photographs. We don't need a man at all."

"I consider one man better than two photographs any time."

With that I left. My words were spoken jocularly, but six months from that date I stood in the house not as a burglar, but as a bridegroom.

DIVINE JUSTICE IN THE DELUGE

The Deluge Rightly Understood Was an Act of Mercy, Delivering Man From Slavery.

Pastor Russell's Interpretations Unlock Bible Mysteries—Dark Statements Made Luminous—Lucifer by Rebellion Became Satan—How His Evil Example Was Permitted to Test the Loyalty of All the Holy Angels.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Dayton, Ohio, February 9.—Great crowds heard Pastor Russell today at Memorial Hall. He spoke twice. We report his discourse on the Deluge from the text, "The flood came, and took them all away."—Matthew 24:39.

I continue today my subject of a week ago at Brooklyn. I am confident that many of you keep in touch with my weekly discourses through the newspapers. Last Sunday we considered the physical causes which led to the Deluge, and found them most reasonable, in full harmony with history and geology. Today we consider the Deluge from a different standpoint. We shall show from the Bible why God permitted the Deluge, and that He was fully justified in blotting out humanity, except Noah and his family.

The Pastor showed that Adam, created perfect, could have maintained that perfection by continued obedience to his Maker. When Satan, the serpent, deceived him, he produced a temptation. Eve saw that the serpent was not poisoned by that fruit, but that it was the wisest of the animals. She thought increased wisdom would make her husband and herself like gods.

Only the Divine command stood between her and the highest ideals. She partook of the fruit and recommended it to Adam. He knew that death would surely follow disobedience; but he preferred to die rather than to be separated from Eve.

Disobedience led to expulsion from Eden, and the gradual execution of the sentence, "Dying thou shalt die." Adam died within the thousand-year Day in which he ate—nine hundred thirty years old. His race inherited his dying tendencies. Humanity are under the curse of death, said the Pastor.

The Deluge a Deliverance. Pastor Russell proceeded to show that according to the Bible the Deluge was a blessing in disguise. Mankind had gotten into slavery, and would have been wiped out by a new race, most peculiarly intruded upon humanity. The Bible states that this race consisted exclusively of males, propagated by the human female. These were giants, "men of renown."

The fallen race, he continued, were unable to cope with the superior strength of the intruders. Robbed of their wives and daughters, and compelled to drudge for their new masters, mankind found life a burden. The new race was vicious, brutal, immoral. The Bible declares, "The earth was filled with violence." Noah, however, was of pure Adamic stock—"perfect in his generations." See Genesis 6:9-11.

The Pastor declared that we have not studied the Bible carefully enough. The origin of the giants is clearly told there. Satan, a glorious angel, deflected to sin because of ambition, thought to establish a separate empire on earth. If he could become master of the first pair, their children would be his subjects.

When Satan perceived humanity growing weaker under the curse, he formulated a new plan. To the angels permission had been given to help humanity. These possessed the power to materialize. Satan suggested the begetting of a new race, with human mothers. To these, the angels could impart their own virility.

The Pastor then showed that the children of this illicit union were giants, renowned at a time when mankind rarely reached maturity earlier than a century. Genesis 6:4 proved that these bestial giants filled the earth with violence.

Hope For the Antediluvians. Pastor Russell pointed out that these giants cannot be included in the redemptive work of Jesus, who died only for Adam's posterity. (I Corinthians 15:22) The antediluvians of Adam's race have the same hope of a resurrection that the remainder of mankind have. This means, he said, a hope of Restoration, to the perfection lost in Eden. This hope rests on God's promise that all the families of the earth shall be blessed in Abraham's Seed, "which Seed is Christ"—Jesus, the Head, and the Church, the members.

In the Messianic Kingdom the Seed will accomplish the blessing foretold. St. Paul says, "If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's Seed, and heirs according to the promise."

Next Sunday Pastor Russell will show what penalty Divine Justice has imposed upon Satan and his angelic rebels. ## RIVALRY THAT CAME TO NAUGHT

Combatants In a Duel Placed In Ridiculous Light.

The coach swung down an incline, the brake scraping noisily. As we reached the hollow one of the passengers, a boy of sixteen, put down a window, letting in a lot of foggy night air. There were coughings and mutterings, and a man endeavored to raise the window, but the boy hung on. Then the coach stopped suddenly, the door was thrown open and a voice said:

"Hey, doctor!"

A man of professional appearance started and looked uneasy.

"You a doctor?" asked the man.

"I am a surgeon."

"All the better. You're wanted."

As it appeared sure that the coach had been stopped by road agents the surgeon quickly alighted.

"All right. Drive on. Doctor, you get on to that critter and come along."

The doctor made a feeble protest, which was not listened to, mounted the horse referred to and, with a man riding on either side, one of whom carried the doctor's bag, proceeded by a crossroad.

"W-w-hat are you going to do with me?" asked the medical man.

"Oh, don't be skeered. You're not going to be hurt. Are your tools in the bag?"

"I have some instruments there."

"Well, you're to be ready at a light to patch up one or both of two men—that is, if they're not killed before the fracas is ended. You see, Tom Biglow and Abe Hinchins, they got stuck on the same gal, and there don't appear no way to settle the matter except for one of 'em to kill the other. They been good friends and neither wantin' an advantage, they want to hev the fight conducted with all the fourishes of an old fashioned duel. South Carolina Jim, he arranged it all for 'em and says they must hev a surgeon."

"But hasn't the girl got anything to say about it?"

"The gal? Oh, she don't know that either of 'em want her. They tumbled to her only last week. You see, out yere in Arizona there ain't many women, and this one she come out with her folks only a week ago lookin' as purty as a leetle red wagon. Tom and Abe both seen her to onct, and both said they was goin' for her. But it wouldn't be fair for either of 'em to go in ahead of the other, so they made it up to fight for her. Tomorrow mornin' they're to walk, one up and t'other down the road, and when they get within shootin' distance they're to begin firin'." South Carolina Jim wanted 'em to stand still and fire when he dropped his hat but they said there might be a chance of one of 'em bein' charged with shootin' before the signal, and they preferred to do the job without any such tomfool restrictions. But they let Jim hev his way about the surgeon. We kept Johnny Croker on the stage every day for a week to find out if there was a doctor aboard, and if there was Johnny was to let down the window when he come to the holder."

"And how far," asked the doctor, "are you going to take me out of my way on this stupid business?"

"Yere we are," was the reply, and they pulled up at a cabin beside the road. A man appeared at the door, lighted only by a candle within.

"We ketched him," said one of the men on horseback. Then to his fellow horseman he said: "You ride over and tell Abe. There's the dawn comin' now. Tell him soon's he sees the first speck of the sun to start. Tom'll start from yere at the same time."

The messenger went on, and the others entered the hut. The owner drew a quart bottle from beneath his coat and passed it to the doctor, but the doctor declined.

"Not drink this chilly mornin'" exclaimed his entertainer. "Why, what's goin' to stiddy your hand when you're cuttin' out a bullet or tryin' to stop a flow of blood?"

"That's just what would unsteady me," replied the doctor.

This statement was received with a stare of wonder, and the conversation turned upon other topics. Tom Biglow spoke of his future with as much confidence as if he were not going within an hour to be one of two targets for a dead shot. When that hour had passed and the dawn had developed into broad daylight, leaving Biglow, the two others mounted and cantered down the road for a mile, when the doctor's pilot stopped.

"They're to begin firin' when they're on that and that crest," pointing to opposite directions. "You're to stay yere, where y'll be about even between 'em both."

After awhile they saw first one figure standing on a crest and soon after another on the opposite crest. Both advanced and when they thought they were within range fired a couple of shots each, but they were too far apart for execution. At that moment a man and a woman came riding furiously across the plain.

"Stop this!" shouted the man.

A signal was made to the combatants, who ceased firing and came slowly up to see what was the matter.

"What d'you fellows mean by interruptin' a couple on the bridle path? I married the gal you two are fightin' about yesterday. 'Bout dawn her dad came and told us 'y was goin' to fight for her. She was bound to git up and stop 'y. I'd like to shoot 'y both."

The rivals looked at each other sheepishly, then advanced and shook hands.

CANARY IS PLUMP AND HAPPY

Absent-Minded Woman Discovers Why She Wanted Telephone Operator to Call Her.

Absent-minded persons sorely try the patience of girls in the New Rochelle telephone office. Not long ago a woman confessed herself subject to extreme forgetfulness and requested the day operator on her exchange to ring her up every morning at nine o'clock. A week later she said:

"Central, what was it I wanted you to call me for at nine o'clock?"

"I don't know," said the girl. "You didn't tell me. You just asked me to call at nine o'clock."

"Too bad," said the woman. "I know there was something I wanted to do every morning at nine o'clock, but I can't for the life of me think what it was."

The nine o'clock calls continued, however, and several days later the woman took central into her confidence again.

"I have found out why I wanted to be called," she said. "A friend had given me a canary and I wanted to make sure of remembering to feed it. The poor little thing is nearly starved. Hereafter when you ring won't you just say, 'Feed the bird,' and I'll go straight and do it!"

Central promised, and the neglected canary is now a plump and contented bird.

Relic of Spanish Armada.

An anchor of the Spanish armada period, recovered from the Wallett, a well-known "swatchway," three miles off Clacton, England, has been presented to Colchester (Essex) Museum. For generations this anchor has been an enemy to the trawls of local fishermen, but at length one of the flukes became worn partially away, and the last trawl that struck it thus lifted it from the ground.

Very Human Wish.

Merta was five years old, and she had been told so many times that she was a big girl now and must be good that her very soul had sickened. "I don't want to be five years old any longer," she grumbled. "I'm tired of being five and good enough to kill you. I'd rather stay four and be just medium and have a good time."

Well Answered.

When he once asked a London class of girls, added Dr. Macnamara, what they would say if he told them he saw the sun rise in the west, he got the reply that it was impossible. "But," he persevered, "supposing I still declared I had seen the sun rise in the west?" "Well," one of the girls at length replied, "I should think you must have got up rather late."

Seven Famous Bibles.

Among the nations of the world the seven famous Bibles are: The Scriptures of the Christians, the Koran of the Mohammedans, the Eddas of the Scandinavians, the Tripitaka of the Buddhists, the Five Kings of the Chinese, the Three Vedas of the Hindoos, and the Zendavesta of the Persians.

Never Too Far.

We need not be afraid that we shall go too far in the walk of active love. Is no danger that any of us will ever go too far in the walk of active love. There is no likelihood that any of us will become too bountiful, too kind, too helpful to his neighbor.—J. C. Clare.

Opposition.

A Blair county barrister recently handed a brief up to the court in which he thus described his two brethren on the other side: "They are like two ghouls in a country graveyard seeking a carcass to devour."—Philadelphia Record.

Explanation.

QUEER FISHES OF THE SEA

Those That Live Down in the Deep Are Grotesque and Chimerical.

Cuba ends to the south in a huge hammer of mountains 8,000 feet high and steeping sheer into the sea. The wall does not end there, but continues its precipitous descent into the 700-mile-long abyss called Bartlett's deep. This gigantic submarine valley is nearly four miles deep and 80 miles wide.

At a mile and a half, the pressure of the water is nearly two tons to the square inch; the ooze that comes up from such a depth, though the equator runs overhead, is cold as hoar frost; it is ten times certain that no vegetation can grow there.

As in our world none but the vegetable are able to make food, it ought to follow that in the depths of the sea there should be no animal life. As a matter of fact, these glooms are inhabited by the most grotesque and chimerical of all fishes. It would seem as though in the darkness life had taken every imaginable license to be ugly and bizarre. Cannibalism is evidently the only method of life, and its equipment runs to every kind of extravagance.

There are fish with teeth so long that they cannot close their mouths, fish that draw their stomach over prey larger than themselves, fish with no more mouth than a leech, and getting their living as leeches, fish with huge, myopic eyes, and fish frankly blind. Probably none of them comes from depths quite beyond the region of light, though a great many of them go poking about their ghoulish business furnished with lanterns of the glow-worm type.

Kitten in Revolt.

A remarkable case of filial ingratitude on the part of a black kitten has occurred in Liverpool, England. A few days ago a customer threw a piece of meat between them, which was secured by the mother cat. To the surprise of everybody, the kitten sprang at his mother and drove her out of the house. Since then he has mounted guard over the doors to prevent her return, and, although she has attempted time after time to return to her old home, her stern, unbending, and ungrateful son bars the way.

Dust Laying in England.

The highway department of the city of Leeds, England, has recently treated portions of a macadam roadway with granular calcium chloride to combat the dust. Solutions of the latter had previously been tried at greater cost and without such satisfactory results. The road is first well swept and two applications of the chloride are made on succeeding evenings of about one-half pound per yard.

Ocean Denizens.

According to Sir John Murray, one of the greatest authorities on oceanography, the bottom is a desert of pitch-black darkness, penetrating cold, and eternal silence. Worms, sea-puddings, and coral polyps sluggishly crawl or sway in the almost currentless depths, and only two species of fish, both of them, with much head and little body, have been found deeper than a mile and a quarter down.

Origin of Famous Phrase.

"Write like an angel" is a corruption of Angelo. Among the Greeks who emigrated to Italy and afterwards to France in the reign of Francis I was one Angelo Verlecto, whose writing excited the admiration of the learned, so that his name became synonymous for the beautiful writing and gave birth to the phrase, to "write like an angel."

Simplify the Problem of Living.

I do believe in simplicity. It is astonishing as well as sad, how many trivial affairs even the wisest man thinks he must attend to in a day; how singular an affair he thinks he must omit. When the mathematician would solve a difficult problem, he first frees the equation of all incumbrances, and reduces it to its simplest terms. So simplify the problem of life, distinguish the necessary and the real—Thoreau "Letters."

WHAT REASON HAS SEABOARD FOR THE DISCRIMINATION?

EFFORT BEING MADE TO FIND OUT WHY DAYTONA IS NOT SHOWN ON MAPS AND THROUGH TIMETABLES.

Why does the Seaboard Air Line railroad persist in leaving Daytona off practically all of the maps and through schedules, and display the names of Ormond, New Smyrna and other much smaller places in large type?

This is a question confronting the citizens of this city, and one to which the board of trade has been unable to get an answer. Now the matter has been taken up by the hotel men's association and the secretary of that organization has been instructed to take the matter up with the officials of that railroad and see if some satisfactory explanation can be obtained.

This same matter was taken up with the officials of the Seaboard by the board of trade last year and the explanation given was that it was an oversight, and that it would be corrected next time maps and schedules were issued by the road. This correction has not been made, and the people here want to know why.

Daytona is the largest city on the line of the Florida East Coast railroad between St. Augustine and Miami, and the tourist business into and out of Daytona during the winter season is larger than any other city or town on the East Coast, except St. Augustine and Palm Beach. This tourist business to East Coast points, so far as all railroads but the Florida East Coast road are concerned, stops at Jacksonville, so there appears to be no sufficient reason why there should be this discrimination against the city of Daytona on the part of the Seaboard.

Under ordinary circumstances this heavy tourist business out of Daytona and north and east from Jacksonville should be divided among the railroads, and if the Seaboard Air Line fails to get its share of this business and does not care for it, the officials are taking the proper course to throw it away.

HEARD ON THE STREETS

Among the visitors in Daytona at this time are Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin Miller of St. Louis and C. Sanderson, wife and son of Jacksonville, all of whom are guests at Schmidt's hotel. Mr. Miller is traffic manager of the Mobile & Ohio railroad and is one of the most prominent men in railroad circles in the country. Mr. Sanderson is the Florida representative of this road.

J. F. Kelleher of the New Park hotel, Worcester, Mass., was elected head of the association. The convention was the most successful ever held by the association.

That the Volusia shell mounds furnish the best material for road building to be found anywhere in the state of Florida and the demand for the best and most substantial has now caused the county commissioner of Duval county to call for bids for furnishing Volusia shell for the building of new roads around Jacksonville. The county commissioners of Duval county are now asking for bids for shell in carload lots and lighter loads.

Mrs. Rolland E. Stevens entertained about 40 ladies last Friday afternoon at her home on South Ridgewood avenue, at a "mother's and daughters' party, given in honor of her mother, Mrs. Charles Francis of Joliet, Ill., who is visiting her. The ladies took their sewing and from 2:30 to 5 o'clock a pleasant time was spent in this occupation and in social converse and in the enjoyment of attractive refreshments. Delicious fruit punch was served during the afternoon.

INTERESTING MEETING OF THE LOCAL D. A. R. CHAPTER.

An especially interesting meeting of the local chapter of D. A. R. was held Wednesday afternoon, February 5, at the home of Miss L. A. Cross and Mrs. L. S. Benedict, South Ridgewood avenue.

Nine members responded to roll call and there were 10 guests, all members of northern chapters. In the absence of the regent, who was ill, the state regent, Miss Thorp, occupied the chair.

An important business session was held and the delegates to the state conference at Tampa the last week in the month were chosen and also for the national congress in Washington, D. C., in April.

On account of illness in the home of Mrs. Hatch, Miss Stoeber took charge of the regular program.

Mrs. Stanley read an article on the siege of Boston. "Israel Putnam," and an excellent newspaper article, was given by Mrs. Raynor, followed by two anecdotes of Putnam by Mrs. Benedict, who also gave a short sketch of General Joseph Warren. "Wm. Prescott" was given by Miss Cross, and Miss Stoeber closed with remarks on events leading up to that period of the revolution.

Mrs. Bigelow gave verbally a most interesting resume of Washington as a man, his early life, characteristics, etc.

In the absence of Mrs. Hevener, who is wintering in California, Mrs. Stanley will have charge of the next monthly meeting of the chapter.

After remarks from members of other chapters, the usual social half hour was enjoyed including refreshments, which were served at that time.

FLAG PRESENTATION AT DAYTONA PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The new flag bought by the pupils of the school in conjunction with the local school board, was presented to the school Friday afternoon in the auditorium. The exercises were to have been held out doors, but the weather conditions were such that it was thought best to hold them inside. Miss Lively had charge of the unfurling of the flag, which was attached to the balcony. The new flag is 12x18 feet, and will replace the one presented by the D. A. R. society two years ago.

Following the unfurling of the flag, America was sung by the school. Prof. Wright's reading was enthusiastically received.

Buzzing Sounds Made by Insects.
The different humming or buzzing sound in insects is caused by the vibration of the wings, and the more rapid the vibrations the sharper the sound. Scientists have estimated that the common house fly vibrates its wings about 335 times a second and the honeybee 400 times, though a tired bee moves its wings more slowly and makes a different sound from a fresh one. The butterfly is content to move more slowly and makes no noise.

Her Infinite Variety.
As we sit down and ponder over the summer courtship we find the hand that wielded the canoe paddle now wields the broom. The supper on river banks are now in a small dining room. The gazing at the sky in summer time is now looking to see if the wash can safely be put out. The hand in the wash tub is the hand that that trailed over the canoe side. The soft voice in quiet lanes is now—Don't you think it's a cruel world?—Kirkwood Courier.

Signs Missing.
"Why do you want your money back?" asked the man at the box office. "You're operating under false pretenses here. This isn't a real vaudeville show. I noticed that three of the performers sang songs in which there was no mention of love in connection with the stars above."

Happiness.
Those who have the most of happiness think the least about it. But in thinking about and in doing their duty happiness comes—because the heart and mind are occupied with earnest thought that touches at a thousand points the beautiful and sublime realities of the universe.—Thackeray.

BLACK BREAD OF GUETERSLOH SORRY FOR HIS WRONGDOING

How Bismarck Started Craze for Westphalian Pumpernickel and Made Fortune of Bakers.

Guetersloh was a town of some fifteen hundred inhabitants some eighty years ago when, one day during the maneuvers, a young lieutenant took up his quarters there. This lieutenant came from Pomerania, where they also make black bread of fine quality, but he liked better the peculiar flavor of the Westphalia article. His name was Bismarck.

In the year 1870 Bismarck was again traveling through Guetersloh, this time as chancellor. King William was with him. When the train stopped the prime minister called out genially to the crowd that had come to meet them:

"Is there any one who can get me some pumpernickel with butter?"

As a number of reporters were present when this query was made the fortune of the Guetersloh black bread was made, and it speedily became the fashion all over Germany. The craze for Westphalian pumpernickel spread far and wide, cunningly furthered by the bakers who now baked for export only small one-pound loaves, for the purpose of making it look "more like a delicatessen," as they say.

The bakers of Guetersloh were worldly wise, for from the same kneading-troughs there go into the oven first the huge loaves (certain of these that go to the farm-houses often weighing half a hundredweight) and then, shaped of what is left, the tiny loaves that are wrapped in paper and exported to all parts of the world to be sold at a delicatessen.

Losing a King.
One of our naval officers tells of an incident that occurred when an American war vessel was lying at anchor in a European port, on which occasion it was visited by a monarch and his suite.

One of the members of this suite, resplendent in gold lace and decorations, with a big sword at his side and sporting a huge mustache, was carrying the ship, and being ignorant of things nautical, had leaped against the main-hatch windlass, mistaking it for a mast. Of what ensued the sailors of the deck was informed by the monarch's mate, who had seen the catastrophe and who broke the news of it thus:

"You will excuse me, sir, but I think one of them kings has fell down the main hatch, sir."—Harper's Magazine.

Cannibal Fishes and Humans People.
While as a measure of economy the great majority of all the fishes and other creatures at the Aquarium are fed on dead food, such as cut up fish, or, as in the case of some of the larger ones, small dead fish whole, there are some fishes which if they are to be kept alive or in condition must have live food such as they would find in nature.

In their free state all fishes are cannibals. This is the way of nature. But among the visitors at the Aquarium there are people who consider the placing of live little fishes in the tanks to be devoured by bigger fish as cruel and in deference to this feeling the fishes that must be supplied with live food are fed before the Aquarium is opened in the morning and after it is closed at night.

Tuberculosis.
Tuberculosis or consumption is rare in childhood; increases rapidly after the age of fifteen, and is most common between the ages of twenty-five and thirty. Those who escape it till the latter age are less and less prone to it as they advance in years.

Tombstone as a Barometer.
Upton, near Peterborough, one of the smallest parishes in England, numbering only fourteen houses, possesses a mysterious tombstone of black marble, which emits a damp ooze in patches when it is about to rain. It is regarded in the village as an infallible barometer.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—18 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surface road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 8 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE—a Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

MAMMOTH TREE—4 miles from Daytona; an abnormally large tree; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

DELAND—25 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stetson university; a very picturesque city; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

TOMOKA RIVER—The scenic stream of Florida; reached by excursion boats which leave Daytona daily and run to the navigable head of the stream, 26 miles from the city. Generally a number of alligators may be seen in their native haunts. This is a trip no tourist should miss.

DELEON SPRINGS, 28 miles from Daytona; mammoth spring that throws out thousands of gallons of water a minute; a delightful bathing pool, and picturesque scenery. Spring is situated in an old plantation. Reached by motor over good road; a nice trip for a picnic party.

OAK HILL—hamlet, 10 miles south of New Smyrna; several orange groves in the locality; reached by motor over hard-surfaced road.

ORMOND—six miles from Daytona; here is located the Ormond hotel and a pretty town; nearby are the ruins of Spanish sugar mills.

TURTLE MOUND—26 miles south of Daytona; reached by boat; a mammoth mound of oyster shells supposed to have been left by a prehistoric race of people. Pottery and other antiquities have been discovered in excavating the shell.

PORT ORANGE—an attractive town 6 miles south of Daytona, can be reached by motor over hard-surfaced road; or the trip one way may be made by the road and crossing the Halifax river on the Port Orange bridge, the return can be made on the ocean beach.

CLARENDON GOLF LINKS—2 miles from Daytona and immediately north of the Hotel Clarendon at Seabreeze; the links are in good condition. The Hotel Clarendon bears the distinction of being the only fireproof winter tourist hotel in the world.

GENERALLY, you may motor in any direction from Daytona and find places and objects of interest which your driver can explain to you; there are many by-roads through the sylvan vegetation that a visitor will greatly enjoy.

PLEAS FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

A steam boiler has its safety valve and a boy has his. You can sit on the safety valve of a steam boiler if you choose, but you are an awful fool if you do. But what else is it we have been doing until quite recently but sitting on the safety valve of the boy? The boy's safety valve is his play. Sit on that, hold it down hard and you will have trouble. Give him the gutter for a playground and nothing else and you will have crime as a matter of course.—Jacob Riis.

Where is there an acre given to childhood that it may glory in sport and grow into physical and moral manhood? * * * It is for lack of fresh air gardens in our cities for the little ones that we have so many small headstones.—Samuel Browne Duryea.

The universal impulse to play is a divinely ordered thing. If God gives the instinct, man ought to provide the playground.—Josiah Strong.

The control in a well managed playground is largely of the mutual consent kind. It is that control which obtains throughout well regulated society—the control of public opinion rather than the control of either force or fear.—Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick.

THE NECESSITY OF SCHOOL DISINFECTION.

Medical Expert Gives Rules For Health Safeguards.

Having regard to the constant recurrence of epidemics among school children and to the failure of all existing preventive measures, routine disinfection of schoolrooms should be given a thorough trial, says Dr. J. T. A. Walter in the American City. In the absence of this precautionary measure the infective material diffused by children in the unrecognized stages of certain infectious diseases must accumulate on the schoolroom floors and constitute a standing menace to the health of pupils and teachers alike. Conceding that the major part of school infection is due to direct contact, a certain proportion is also due to the inhalation of bacilliferous dust.

Routine disinfection was introduced into the elementary schools of Great Britain in 1907. An experiment extending over a year was carried out by the Buckinghamshire education committee with the view to obtaining reliable data as to the effects of routine disinfection. This consisted in comparing the attendance at two groups each consisting of twenty-four schools, of which one group had been disinfected and the other not. The result showed an appreciable superiority in the attendance at the disinfected schools over those at the nondisinfected schools.

For school disinfection the liquid spray method is preferable to that of fumigation, for three reasons. It costs less, it insures actual contact between the disinfectant and the infected material, and it prevents dust from rising. At the close of each day the classroom floors should be thoroughly moistened with an efficient germicidal solution and the desks and seats wiped with a cloth wrung out of the same preparation. Once a week the process should be extended to include the walls to a height of six or seven feet above the ground, and once a quarter the classrooms should be thoroughly sprayed from floor to ceiling.

Played His Own Wedding March.

In a wedding ceremony at the Holy Rosary Catholic church of Reading, Pa., the bridegroom, Giovanni Pace, organist of the church, played his own wedding march while the rest of the bridal party entered the church and advanced to the altar. At the conclusion of the march the bridegroom proceeded to the chancel rail and met his bride.

Cakes for Man in the Moon.

For centuries Chinese women have been baking cakes for the man in the moon, who was supposed to leave his high seat on the annual festival and wander over the earth nibbling at the moon-faced pastries made in his honor.

Sensible Ambition.

Ambition's reason is best exemplified by an earnest effort to prepare for the position higher up before being willing to accept it.

A SUCCESSFUL CITY MARKET

One in Dubuque, Ia., Has Room
For 200 Teams.

A CREDIT TO THE COMMUNITY

The Farmers Are Allowed to Sell
From 7 to 11 in the Morning, and Then Everything is Cleaned Up For Afternoon of Quiet.

Many visitors to Dubuque, Ia., are amazed at the large truck market, which covers a dozen or more blocks, representing 200 teams. On Saturdays more than 300 wagons, standing side by side, are loaded with the very best choice garden vegetables, fruits, poultry and eggs from which to select.

From 7 to 11 o'clock in the morning thousands of people visit the market. It is interesting, especially on Saturday, to see there people of refinement, people of various means, color and nationality.

The fresh garden truck offered to the public is gathered less than twelve hours previous and sold at the very lowest prices. Each gardener has a stand or possibly sells direct from the truck wagon. The vegetables are neatly arranged on the stand or wagon, as it may be. In the fall large quantities of flowers are brought in and eagerly sought after by city people. They are arranged in suitable bouquets, and, while they may adorn the tables of the most wealthy, the price is within the reach of the most humble. Sometimes a whole truck wagon filled with flowers is backed up to the sidewalk, while most of the stands and wagons are decorated with them.

At 11 o'clock the market closes, and very seldom does the gardener have anything to take back home, as he usually has regular customers, such as hotels, restaurants, etc., where the surplus is readily disposed of. Should one visit the vicinity of the market in the afternoon the impression that a truck market had been carried on there during the forenoon would never be gained, so neatly is everything cleaned up and the place put in order. This market certainly is a credit to the city. It gives the public the advantage of a larger variety of garden truck, fresh every day and at prices within the reach of all, than would be possible if it did not exist.

A BEAUTIFUL BUT EXPENSIVE TYPE OF MUNICIPAL MARKET.

The gardeners have an association and elect some of the members as officers to attend to the affairs of the association. Every year, usually in August, they have a picnic, and on that day no market is held. In order to enable all the members to attend. Many valuable prizes are offered by the association for the best decorated wagons and most unique and attractive display of vegetables, flowers, etc., as well as horseback riders in the procession that parades the principal streets of Dubuque, headed by the military band. Wagons decorated with all kinds of flowers, vegetables and fruits in the most artistic manner are exhibited on the picnic grounds after the procession. This is as large an exhibit as is generally found at most county fairs, and the procession is as interesting and as large as that of most of the circuses throughout the country. Attractions of all kinds are presented on the picnic grounds and the day is entirely devoted to the benefit of the gardeners.

STATE HAPPENINGS

News from Fair Florida Briefly Told

A movement is now on foot to build an ice plant at Davenport in connection with which will be an electric light plant.

Contract for a seawall at Gulfport will be let within a few days. This will add about 55 acres to the city of Gulfport and extend about half a mile along the bay front.

Preparations for the big Ponce de Leon celebration in St. Augustine are now on in earnest. From now until the opening day will be busy times with the committee, especially so with Director A. W. Corbett.

The county commissioners of Columbia county are putting into effect a plan to use all the county prisoners in the building and repair of the roads leading into Lake City. The prisoners will be returned to the jail each night.

Work is now being actively pushed by the company who has the contract for the installing of Lakeland's sewerage system. The $75,000 sewerage system will place Lakeland in the front rank of Florida cities. It is understood that as soon as this work is completed vitrified brick streets will be laid.

The Marion County Hospital association has decided to issue bonds to the amount of $10,000 and will continue the work of erecting a modern hospital in Ocala. The work was begun over a year ago, but the funds gave out and the work was stopped. The building, when completed, will have cost about $35,000 and will be thoroughly up to date and fitted for the work intended.

Lakeland is just now enjoying one of the most successful tourist season in its history. There is not a vacant house to be had and in many instances there are from two to three families snugly domiciled under one roof, while the hotels and boarding houses are taxed to their utmost capacity in order to accommodate the rush.

There seems to be no doubt but what the Key West guards will go to Washington to take part in the inaugural parade there on March 4. About $1,500 is required for traveling expenses and there seemed to be some doubt about raising this amount at first, but the boys of the company have announced that they will subscribe $500 of the amount themselves. The other $1,000 will doubtless be subscribed by the city and county. The guards are the crack military company of the state, and their appearance in Washington would be a credit both to Key West and to the state of Florida.

JULIET'S BALCONY.

It Looks Just as It Did When Romeo Wooded the Sweet Veronese.

This was the home of the Capulets, from whom descended Juliet, for whom so many kind hearts have wept and of whom the poets have sung.

You read the words on a tablet by the side of a tall and slender gray house in a quiet street of Verona. A few steps farther on the busy life of the old city is centered in the market place and in the one or two streets that lead from it. You stand in front of the lightly built dwelling, and you look at the slim balcony of wood from which bent forward the form of the radiant girl whose undying love story has echoed down the ages. It is an autumn day, and within the rail of the narrow framework some one has placed red flowers in tall green pots. A curtain at the little window moves in the breeze, and you expect at any moment to see the dainty form of Juliet appear and to hear a rippling laugh fall from her lips.

A woman steps from the room beyond, through the open window and stands to listen. She has a child in her arms, and he claps his hands, laughing and crowing, no doubt just as the beloved Veronese did centuries ago. The mother hushes him, for she is intently listening to the market cries. In the midst of that everyday life walks the immortal Juliet—London Telegraph.

Inside Information.

"Silk stockings must be very cheap in America. Nowhere in the world do women's slim and supple ankles gleam in lustrous silk as they do here."

The speaker was an English actor. He continued:

"A married man told me the other day that, going into one of your department stores, he said to a floor-walker:

"I'm looking for something pretty in silk stockings."

"The floorwalker smiled and, with a gesture, embraced the long rows of counters, with their charming saleswomen."

"That remark," he said, "describes, I believe, practically every one of our young ladies."—New York Tribune.

Buy at Home.

Any resident of a community, whatever be his occupation, when he sends away to a distant place for the goods that he requires, not alone does a thing that is directly against his own interests, but against the interest of every resident of the community. He assists in destroying the business of his home town, helps deteriorate the schools, decrease real estate values and does his part toward building up a foreign place in which he has no interest.

Cultivate the Farmer.

It is a good idea to cultivate the friendship of the farmers more closely. If only the right presentations are made by the banker, the business man of a town, much good can be done toward awakening an interest in farming communities, a pride that will be of great benefit in the way of increasing the business of the town and keeping money from going elsewhere.

MANLIKE MANATEES.

These Queer Creatures Are Linked
With the Mermaid Myth.

In semitropical waters of America there sports a member of that family of aquatic mammals to which has been ascribed the mermaid myth. Related to the dugong and the now extinct rhytina, we still have the manatee. This name is preferred by some to manati, under the impression that the latter is the plural of the Latin "manatus" (furnished with hands), though the name is probably of Mandingo origin.

The manatee is a herbivorous mammal inhabiting the shallows about the coasts of Florida, Mexico, central America and the West Indies. It is not known to attempt the open sea and does not possess the ability to come ashore. This animal is somewhat whalelike in shape, with a horizontal tail fin. It is from eight to twelve feet in length, the body being scantily covered with hair. The only limbs are the fore flippers, low on the side of the body. This flipper has no fingers. It does possess, though, three flat nails and has a free motion in all directions from the shoulder. The elbow and wrist approximate the human anatomy in movement. With this crude resemblance to an arm the manatee has been said to carry its young. While the statement is not authentic, it is quite believable, its possibility being vouched for by all observers of the arm in motion.

The head of the manatee is divided from the body by a slight indication of neck. The upper lip is extraordinarily flexible—so much so that each side can protrude independently of the other, and, thus separated into two lobes, the upper lip can perform the complete operation of grasping food and conveying it into the mouth. In each jaw are twenty pairs of two ridged teeth. With this formidable equipment the manatee is not, however, ferocious, but browses tranquilly on the water plants of its habitat. In some views the head is surprisingly manlike, though far from beautiful, and no specimen has ever sat on the rocks and combed its golden hair.—Harper's.

ELECTION STRATEGY.

Incident of an Old Time English Parliamentary Contest.

In the days before the institution of the secret ballot, when the candidate with the longest purse usually won an election, a former Lord Dundonald, who refused to give bribes, contested Honiton, but was beaten by an opponent who paid his electors at the rate of £5 a vote.

Then the unsuccessful candidate conceived this brilliant plan, says the writer of a history of the Dundonald family. He announced to his friends that he was quite determined to win the seat next time without bribery. Then he sent the town crier round the town to announce that all who had voted for him in this first election might repair to his agent, from whom they would receive £10.

As comparatively few people had voted for him, this was not a very expensive process. And at the next election Lord Dundonald was elected by an enormous majority. After the triumph several people came to him and delicately suggested that some reward was due to such loyalty.

"Not a farthing," was the reply.
"But, my lord, you gave £10 a head to the minority at the last election, and the majority have been counting on something handsome on this occasion."

"Perhaps so," said the clever candidate. "My former gift was for their disinterested conduct in not taking my opponent's bribe of £5. For me to pay them now would be to violate my own principles."—Pearson's Weekly.

Thermometer and Gulf Stream.

Investigators have observed that the thermometer is not necessarily a sure indication of the gulf stream; that the strongest current does not necessarily coincide with the highest temperature. The warmth of the water only indicates its tropical origin, and it may or may not be accompanied by a current. Thus the warmest water off Cape Hatteras is the result of a very gentle flow coming from the trade wind region outside the West Indies. The gulf stream itself is between this warmer water and the 100 fathom curve.—Shipping Illustrated.

Against Speculation.

The head of a big trust said at a dinner in Boston:

"I have always been against speculation. To try to get rich by stock fluctuations instead of by honest work for the common good is to be an undesirable citizen."

"Besides, these fluctuating investments are very risky and uncertain. It's a wise stock, you see, that knows its own par."—Exchange.

Wise Provision.

"Bliggins says he has the shortest son-in-law in the world."

"Of course," answered Mr. Growlery. "Every parent feels that way, and it's a wise provision of nature. In every human being's life there ought to be a time when somebody thinks he is smart."—Washington Star.

"What a highly colored life his must be!"—Baltimore American.
